

ANNUAL CONSTRUCTION LAW UPDATE 2016

Wednesday, 27 January 2016, 5.00 - 7.30pm
STI Auditorium, Level 9, 168 Robinson Road Capital Tower 068912

About this Seminar:-

Since the Inaugural Annual Construction Law Updates seminar in January 2011, SCL (Singapore) has organised an annual update which has been well-received as a key landmark in each year's construction law-related training calendar. SCL (Singapore) is pleased to present its must-attend annual overview of key legal issues affecting the construction law industry in Singapore this past year.

Our distinguished speakers, Mr. Christopher Chuah and Dr. Philip Chan, will discuss updates on cases relating to the Security of Payment Act and development in Construction Law in Singapore.

Seminar Programme:-

5.00-5.30pm	Registrations & Networking for Delegates
5.30-5.45pm	Opening Remarks by Chairman: Mr. Alex Wong – Vice Chairman, Society of Construction Law; Partner, Hogan Lovells Lee & Lee
5.45-7.00pm	Recent Developments in relation to the Building and Construction Industry Security of Payment Act (SOP Act) Common Problems and Potential Solutions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Computation of timelines in relation to service of payment claims and payment responses under the SOP Act; – Whether prolongation claims can be claimed under the SOP Act; – Interpretation of 'adjudicated upon' and repeat claims; – What constitutes "pay-when-paid" provisions; – What are provisions deemed to be in breach of section 36 of the SOP Act – What constitutes failure to comply with the SOP Act and/or Regulations and consequences
	Speaker: Mr. Christopher Chuah, Partner, WongPartnership
	Developments in Construction Law (2015) This year three CA cases would be reviewed. The first case reminds all of us to take precaution in avoiding being liable for our independent contractor's negligence liability. The second case examines what appears to be the start of a new trend to limit Singapore's position of granting an injunction against a call of the bond because of unconscionability by way of a contractual clause. The third case warns of the pit falls in the reliance of terms like market and market value/price in the valuation of variation clauses. This would be followed by a review of 6 High Court cases touching on areas like Negligence and WSHA; Termination; Challenges against successful restraining the call of an on-demand bond; Confidentiality of drawings; Scope of indemnity clause; and payment dispute with an overview on the yet-to-be implemented design for safety regulations.
	Speaker: Dr. Philip Chan – Associate Professor, National University of Singapore
7.00-7.30pm	Q&A Session
